City Voters Return Incumbents

BY CARROLL WILSON

City voters went to the polls in record numbers Tuesday to re-elect Felix Pierce and Kenneth Olsen to places on the city commission.

A total of 834 votes were cast, about 200 more than were cast in last year's combination bond and city election. The previous record vote was 616.

Pierce was returned to the commission for a second term with a total vote of 504. His opponent, Walter Shelly, a government instructor at West Texas State University, received 323.

Olsen, who was appointed to the commission in May of last year to fill the unexpired term of the late Tom Foster, tallied 447 votes. Francis Shell, a local pharmacist, received 382 votes.

A total of 802 persons voted between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday and 32 persons voted absentee.

From the time the polls opened, officials were predicting a record voter turnout. At 9 a.m. 55 persons had balloted. Shortly after noon, 381 persons had voted.

By 4:30 p.m. the old record had been shattered with 649 voting.

Before 1968, the previous high voter turnout was 518 in the 1961 campaign.

Mayor Paul Lindsey attributed much of the record vote to controversy over a proposed traffic plan for 23rd Street.

He said those running for election this year worked more and harder than in the past. He also attributed the vote to increased coverage by the local newspaper.

The mayor said he "would have to accept it (the returning of the two commissioners to office) as a vote of confidence because one of the main issues was the policies we've tried to carry out."

Olsen said he, too, sees the election as a vote of confidence for the commission.

He said he is "grateful to my supporters and the citizens of Canyon. I think they have exemplified a faith and trust in me."

Pierce said he is happy with the turnout as well as the outcome of the election. He said he will try "to make a good commissioner."

Shelly said "I think even in losing an election such as this, a person, like myself, learns a great deal in experience and from the acquaintances he makes."

He said throughout the campaign "many good things happened to me, such as learning about the town of Canyon, making many new friends, and undertaking a new venture.

"To all those who contributed funds to my campaign, who contacted friends and registered voters to urge their participation, who encouraged me with their suggestions and moral support and who voted for me, I wish to extend my most sincere thanks and appreciation. And, to Mr. Pierce, I extend my congratulations and best wishes."

Shell said he feels he received good support.

"We got a good (voter) turnout and that's what we were after," he said. "I think they got a good man in their selection."

'TEXAS' Veep Thanks Public For Support

The executive vice president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., thanked area residents this week for "word-of-mouth advertising" and continued support of the foundation's "TEXAS" production.

Raymond Raillard in a letter to residents said the image of the musical drama is changing and he attributed this change to this advertising and support.

Raillard said two years ago, "the general conception of our drama was that it was a small-town pageant--with horses and square dancing, that the Palo Duro was a secret, known only to a few natives, and the Panhandle was a great expanse of nothingness."

The vice president said last week he worked in Dallas with the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce at a travel show.

"We were amazed at the number of people who would recognize the "TEXAS" brochure. . . ," he said. "It was a pleasure to hand out brochures to people who had so many nice things to say about our area."

Raillard said three years ago there was only mild acceptance of information to the Panhandle and "TEXAS."

"Today," he said, "they are interested."

23rd Street Plan Faces State Okay

A traffic plan for 23rd Street in Canyon has been submitted to the Austin office of the Texas Highway Department and has been recommended for the office's approval.

Chili Smith, district traffic engineer for the Amarillo office, said he submitted the plan and his recommendation to the Austin office Wednesday.

"We submitted it and recommended it," he said. "We think it's a good plan."

The plan calls for raised medians for the full length of 23rd Street, as well as an additional traffic signal light at both 23rd and Spur 48 and 23rd and 10th Avenue.

The plan was drawn for the City of Canyon by Wayne Sherrell, city traffic engineer of Lubbock.

It was accepted by the Canyon City Commission several months ago and has been a controversial issue since that time.

The plan would also eliminate parking along the length of the street.

City Manager Paul Davis said he submitted the proposed plan to Smith's office Tuesday afternoon.

Smith said he doesn't know when approval from Austin will come. Final approval rests with the Texas Highway Commission.

Service Set For Sunrise

The annual "sunrise service" for Easter Sunday will begin at 6 a.m. Sunday in Pioneer Amphitheatre at Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Sponsored by the Canyon Christian Youth Council, the service will begin with a sound and light show following the worship theme.

Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Canyon, will deliver the nondenominational address following the topic "See Something, Feel Something, I Fear Nothing" based on Mark 16:1-8.

A madrigal singing group from Canyon High School will provide the special music.

Local and area residents are invited to attend. Admission to the park will be free for those attending the sunrise service.

Young Is Returned To Prison

Towering Clarence Edward Young is back in Texas State Penitentiary after a brief span of freedom.

Young was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1956 in the bayonet stabbing death of Robert Boyd Chapman in the roadside park area just south of Canyon.

Chapman was killed March 24, 1956. A Randall County jury assessed Young an additional 10 years for stealing Chapman's car.

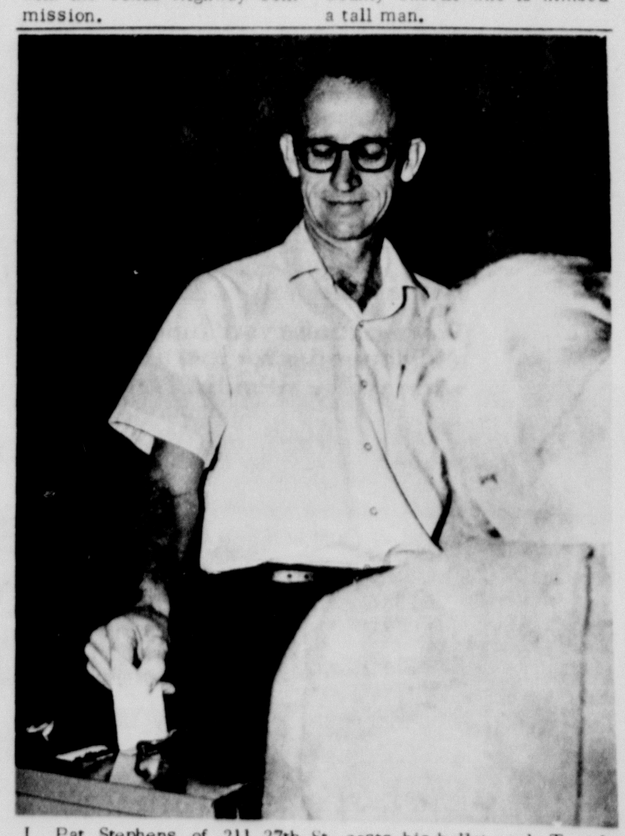
Young was committed to the penitentiary Oct. 11, 1956.

He was paroled June 12, 1968 over the vigorous protest of Randall County Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston and Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen.

Young was returned to the Texas prison March 6 for parole violation.

Dowlen was not certain how much additional time Young must serve before becoming eligible for parole again.

Those who followed the trial in 1956 will remember Young as a Goliath of a man who could stand flat footed and look over the head of the Randall County sheriff who is himself a tall man.



J. Pat Stephens of 211 27th St. casts his ballot early Tuesday morning in the city election. Two new commissioners were elected in the balloting to fill places four and five on the commission.

State Health Official Warns of Trash Laws

A Texas Department of Health official warned city administrators from throughout the state last week not to ask for any other extensions on a deadline set up by a law which will govern the disposal of trash at city dumps.

David Cochran, chief of the Environmental Development, spoke at a meeting of the Texas Municipal League in Austin Monday.

City Manager Paul Davis, and Commissioners H. R. Fulton, Felix Pierce and Jim Christopher attended the conference, during which the warning was issued.

Cochran outlined a state law which prohibits the burning of trash materials at city dump grounds.

The law took effect in January 1968 but 18-month extensions were granted.

Davis, following his return to Canyon, said the city presently has an extension, but has definite plans for converting the city's dump grounds, located about 1 1/2 miles northwest of the city, from a burning type to a type where the trash is buried.

The city manager said about 75 per cent of the small cities burn trash at the city dump.

He said the law also controls industrial air pollution.

Davis said Canyon, in the bound issue last year, set aside $25,000 for the sanitation department--$17,000 for a truck and $8,000 to purchase land adjacent the present city dump.

Twenty-four acres of land have been purchased for the city's use. The city is to quit burning trash July 1.

'You and The Law' New Junior High Subject

BY JOAN FOWLKES

"You and The Law" is a new subject being taught in conjunction with the social studies or history classes to all eighth grade students in the Canyon Junior High School.

The Sixtieth Legislature has adopted a resolution which requires the Texas Education Agency to develop materials for schools to use in teaching a sixteen classhour unit of study on the basic elements of good citizenship.

The course stresses the importance of the law, the rights and responsibilities of citizens under it, and the possible long and short term consequences of violating it.

The intent of the resolution is to gear instruction to the junior high school age student.

The objective of this course is to stimulate the students to analize and discuss viewpoints concerning significant principles basic to our constitutional rights and liberties, civil rights and liberties and the growth of crime, and to identify and consider individuals or groups who present their viewpoints and aspects of an individual's background and experiences that would condition or influence his point of view.

Schools may schedule this unit at any time during the school year, but it is essential that students have studied the history and origin of our Constitution, The Bill of Rights, and the other constitutional amendments providing for civil rights and liberties prior to the unit.

This unit may be taught as part of the history class after students have studied the Constitution or in conjunction with civics classes studying our system of law making and law enforcement or the United States Constitution and the Amendments, particularly the Bill of Rights.

This study may also be taught as an independent unit during the latter part of the spring semester.

The lessons consist of a prequiz, fourteen audiotape recordings and a final quiz at the end of the course.

Five of the fourteen recordings include interviews with members of the legal profession in which they express their viewpoints on principles of a constitutional democracy and the growing rate of juvenile delinquency in our country. The other nine recordings include cases or episodes based on real situations or court records which illustrate in some specific ways the principles presented in the five interviews.

These nine lessons present cases or situations drawn from court records or from history in which the rights and liberties of individuals are in conflict, or individuals are in conflict with society.

In considering the conflicts presented in these tapes, the teacher is not to seek right or wrong answers but is to encourage students to make their own decisions. The prime reason for analyzing situations in which human rights are in conflict are to help students to develop a better understanding of some of the basic rights and responsibilities of citizens and the concept of government of laws, not of men, and to understand some of the realitites they may face in their relationships with other people and as adult participants in our society.

As of yet, there are no text books, from which this course is taught but supplementary materials and audio-tapes are used in connection with civics and history texts.

Text materials for "You and The Law" include a teaching guide of sixteen lessons prepared by the Agency from which to teach the course, a copy of the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States including all amendments, which are to be found in the current history and civics textbooks, audiotapes, films, filmstrips, and other printed materials.

The materials developed by the Texas Education Agency staff for teaching this unit will be revised after evaluation by the schools.

The schools will be asked to submit an evaluation of their instruction of the Agency at the end of the spring term.

If the taped presentations are not deemed appropriate for a particular group, other materials which are available may be substituted.

In these classes, the students learn definitions, explanations, and interpretations of crime.

They also learn answers to questions that many never think about until they are faced with situations requiring this knowledge.

What is meant by criminal offense, age of accountability, parties to a crime?

What are penalties concerning crimes against persons and the technicalities that can change the penalties? Crimes against property? Traffic offences? Narcotics? Hallucinogens? What is the penalty for being a habitual offender? And what is the citizen's responsibility?

Teachers may decide that some students will need additional experiences, such as visits to the courthouse and interviews with city or county officials. They may feel a need to enlarge upon the sixteen lessons as they see fit and to encourage students to pursue research work related to any particular topic.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

For years a small but vociferous segment of our population has been complaining that their rights are being violated by archaic laws that compel them to wear clothing when they appear in public.

Now that our congressmen have received such a generous salary increase, one of them seems anxious to earn his; He has introduced a bill to grant the voyeurs and exhibitionists the right to parade around in the nude wherever they please.

What about the rights of nearly 200 million Americans whose sensibilities will be outraged by the sight of said voyeurs and exhibitionists?

It seems that the dissident minorities feel they are entitled to anything they want regardless of how offensive their conduct may be to the majority. Before making too many ridiculous demands, the minorities should be aware that the majority could make it very unpleasant for them if they ever decide to demand a few rights of their own.

Man was created in the likeness and image of his Creator, and given dominion over everything on earth--except himself. And man has been able to control almost everything in the universe except man.

Man is the only animal that does not grow his own clothing. Nakedness has always been symbolic of sin. Every time man puts on a garment he is symbolically confessing that he has sins that need covering. Adam and Eve wore no clothing until they disobeyed their Creator. When their eyes were opened and they knew they were naked, they sewed fig leaves together in an effort to cover themselves. Apparently, they were very well satisfied with their fig-leaf aprons-until God came. In spite of their "clothing," they hid themselves.

The Record says God slew some innocent animals, and clothed his two disobedient children in the skins. Accepting the skins was a confession of the need to be clothed, and the inability to provide adequate clothing for themselves, or propitiation for their sin of unbelief in God.

It is not surprising that the man who refuses to acknowledge a Divine Creator, or the fact that he has any sin to be covered, would want to parade in front of his fellows in the nude. And as usual the fellow who feels he has the fewest shortcomings usually has the most.

With our police force doing its very best to control voyeurs and exhibitionists, no one is safe from the sex criminal. The crime that would follow in the wake of nudism defies the imagination.

A gang of college young people are planning a nude-in on a Florida beach to "celebrate" Easter. They hope to congregate in such numbers the police cannot control them.

Only last week a twelve-year-old boy was assaulted in a womens' rest room in Memorial Park in Amarillo. The degenerate was already under bond for three previous arrests for similar offenses. But will he be kept in prison so children can safely play in the parks?

The guilty man--caught right in the act--will be loose on the streets as soon as he can raise $15,000 bond. Parents have been admonished to keep their children at home or under a watchful eye in an effort to protect them from this criminal and many others of his kind.

Will anyone--young or old, male or female--be safe from the sex criminal if the law allows public nakedness? What could possibly inflame and excite the degenerates more?

Even the most primitive savages usually wear some clothing. Our modern savages need spiritual help--not legal indulgence. Hasn't our beloved America already been shamed before the whole world without legally reverting to savagery? Shall we justify the Europeans' charges of American crudity?

Who will pay the price if the nudists' complaints are granted? Has the general public no rights at all?

First Negro ROTC Student Receives Army Scholarship

A Negro student has been named one of eight ROTC students at West Texas State University to receive a two-year Army ROTC scholarship.

Leroy Broaden, a Montgomery, Ala., sophomore, is the first Negro ROTC student in WTSU's history to receive one of the two-year stipends.

Lt. Col. Billy R. Smith, professor of military science at WTSU, announced the scholarship recipients. He said four Negro students are presently enrolled in ROTC.

The scholarships pay full fees and tuition, all textbooks and materials and give the students $50 per month for expenses.

Col. Smith said he expects to receive three more scholarships from the Fourth U.S. Army for WTSU cadets.

"We applied for 11 scholarships," he said, "and we anticipate that we will get 11."

The colonel said the WT ROTC department received five scholarships last year.

Others to receive scholarships are Michael A. O'Donnell of Midland; Howard M. Denton of Amarillo; Mark A. Tiefel of Hereford; Joe P. Hart of Childress; Neil A. Cox of Aurora, Colo.; Kent E. Stringfellow of Dumas and Charles C. St. John III of Curundu, Canal Zone.

Frank Castleberry To Denver Convention

Frank Castleberry, Student Union Director of West Texas State University has returned from Denver, Colorado where he attended the Association of College Unions International Convention, March 23 through 26.

The convention theme was "Communiversity" which when directed to group and panel discussions, detailed what universities and communities can do to benefit and be of aid to each other.

Exhibits of booking agencies, furniture, convenience foods, motion pictures, games and anything in the line of promoting student union activity were set up for display to conventioneers.

The two keynote speakers were James R. Lawson, president of Fisk University in New York City, New York, and Ramon S. Skruggs, Sr., personnel director of urban affairs for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. They spoke on "Communiversity" as seen by a black educator and a black business man.

Problems concerning areas directly related to the union fields were discussed and many panel and group discussions were held throughout the convention.

Group Observes Birthday

The 82nd birthday of Mrs. R. H. Long was observed with a party recently at the home of Mrs. K. E. Frieze, 414 Taylor Lane.

Spring colors of yellow, green and pink were carried out in the refreshments and the dinnercloth of white embroidered linen and lace was centered with yellow and white daisies in a crystal bowl.

Guests, whose ages ranged from 70-92, provided their own entertainment by relating experiences of childhood and family life. The hostess recorded the conversation and played the tape for the guests after refreshments were served.

Attending from the King's Daughters Class of the First Baptist Church were Mrs. John Hammond, Mrs. T. T. Fain, Mrs. W. S. Wharton, Mrs. George Brock, Mrs. Ida Billingsley, Mrs. D. P. Clark, Mrs. R. E. Gill, Mrs. J. A. Woodfin, Mrs. Olivia Oldham, and Mrs. Haralson. Other guests were Mrs. Kittie Lawler and Miss Charlotte Bottsford.

Candlelight Service Set

A candlelight communion service tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 o'clock will be held at the First Christian Church of Canyon in conclusion of a Holy Week emphasis.

Easter Sunday the worship schedule will include the regular morning worship hour and a 6 p.m. baptismal service, according to Rev. Ivan Adams.

Mechanics Team Wins 2nd Place

The farm mechanics team from Canyon High School chapter of Future Farmers of America placed second at a district contest held in Hereford last week.

Sponsored by the Deaf Smith and Rita Blanca Electric Cooperatives, the contest included skills in welding, electrification, plumbing and tool identification.

A trophy was awarded the team in addition to a $25 check to be used for purchase of vo-ag shop equipment. According to Marcus Phillips, vo-ag instructor, the contest covers the whole area of shop skills.

LONG on Profit

G-5757 approaches full season in maturity. High yields and fine standability characterize this G-Hybrid. Yields of 163 bushel per acre were recorded at Hart and 154 bushels at Muleshoe. G-5757 is an excellent silage hybrid where high grain, high energy per ton is desired. G-5757 responds to thicker plantings where fertility and ample water are available. You can be proud of G-5757. Plant early whenever possible.

G-711AA is a full season high tonnage silage hybrid with good grain content. G-711AA was the highest yielding corn silage hybrid in the High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway, with 30.05 tons per acre at 70% moisture. G-711AA tends to have higher protein content than many hybrids. This well known top yielding silage hybrid with many 30 ton yields to its credit is hard to beat. If you are planting for silage you should be planting G-711AA.

AN ELECTRIC WATER HEATER, OF COURSE!

Electric water heaters can be concealed anywhere . . . in the garage, in a closet, under cabinet tops. And, that's because they do not need flues or chimneys . . . just the water connection and electricity. If your present water heater is getting along in years . . . not putting out like a youngster, then it's time to replace with a sparkling new electric. And, if service should ever be needed, just call Reddy Kilowatt . . . he'll fix whatever's wrong . . . quick as a magician pulling a rabbit out of a hat!

Tanglewood News

BY GAY HENDRIX

A handsome RCA 20-inch portable color TV is on display at the Tanglewood Club to be given away May 1 to the Tanglewood member who improves his yard most during the month of April.

David Casey has been picking up litter around the lake grounds and Sunday he personally got out and helped plant shrubs. Now he wants the members to do their part to make Tanglewood as attractive as possible, and is offering this dandy prize to arouse enthusiasm.

A committee of three women has been selected to judge the contest. They spent last Monday afternoon carefully looking over everyone's property, and will continue to check every week or ten days all through April to see who is getting out and doing something and how they are progressing.

They want to encourage everyone to participate, and a member need not necessarily own a home here to win the prize, as empty lots can be picked up and improved too.

About 20 teens gathered Saturday afternoon at 2 in the teen room to elect a board of five people to run the teen room at the clubhouse. Jim Mentzer presided. Gary Hudspeth, Scott Tinkham, Jim Boston, Jim Mentzer and Dorothy Pearce were elected to the board. Jim Boston has donated his ping pong table and his family has given the teen room an old TV set which the kids have taken apart for various uses in the wiring and lighting system.

They have great plans for decorating, but need some donations, and some teen help to get them carried out. Any teens with original ideas and/or interest in helping at the club should contact one of the board members. The board members sincerely hope that the Lake Tanglewood teens will use common sense and respect while enjoying the room so that chaparones won't be necessary.

Just in case, however, Ken Turner has been appointed sergeant-at-arms to unobtrusively look in now and again. It will probably be several more weeks before the new board can get the place open for "action".

The Texas Association of High School Student Councils got together in Amarillo last week and seven out-of-town conventioneers stayed with Lake Tanglewood residents. The Wayne Elliotts opened their home to four girls, the Dan Bostons had two boys, and the Murray Grays had a very interesting student from West Berlin, who is presently attending school in Lindale, Texas.

He gave a guitar concert of American songs for the Grays who were most impressed with his ability. Murray asked him "did you learn all of these songs since you came to the United States?" "Oh no," he replied, "that is what we sing in West Berlin". The visits were fun all around, and the students enjoyed seeing our beautiful lake.

Carma Tinkham casually mentioned to Lister Bedell that she would like to learn to swim, "did he know anyone who could teach her?" You Bet! "lister was a Red Cross safety instructor and at one time held six different instructorships from the Red Cross. He is qualified to teach a wide variety of water activities and boat and water safety. Lister is very enthusiastic about an adult class every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 6:30 to 7:30 in the club pool.

He says "swimming is basically fun and self-improvement at the same time." He'll teach whatever the members want to learn, from how to just stay afloat to water ballet. He feels it is important that anyone living on a lake know something about personal safety, self-rescue, and assistance to others.

Eddie Baird is handling an extensive advertising campaign to boost lot sales by sponsoring a number of sportscasts on all three local TV stations. Eddie will be coming out regularly to shoot color movies of scenery and doings around Tanglewood. The sportscasters are going to start giving some water temperature and condition reports for our lake and also discuss fishing conditions and any interesting fish stories.

Dan Boston has posted Jake Halter at the clubhouse weekday afternoons after school and on weekends to show visitors the lake and available lots.

Luther McKee seems to have gone hog-wild with scraping and dredging in the little cove across the road from the clubhouse. Actually, in a few more weeks when the fill dirt has settled and the paving been completed, we would see six new boat-launching ramps there. The water in that area should be fairly calm and prove a good place for launching out of the heavy boat traffic around the fuel dock.

Choirs Working For Trip Fund

Canyon High School choir students are seeking ways of raising funds for a trip to the Buccaneer Music Festival to be held in Corpus Christi in early May.

The choirs have worked all year toward the trip and have conducted concerts, sold fruit cakes and other projects to raise funds. In addition, the choirs have had to establish a mark of excellence in performance to be qualified to attend the music festival, according to Miss Linda Adams, choir director.

"They (the choirs) had to receive excellent ratings at University Interscholastic League choir contests for the year and the previous year to qualify for the trip and must have also received a rating of II or better at last year's festival", said Miss Adams.

Residents in Canyon and Amarillo may hire students to do odd jobs such as house cleaning, window washing, babysitting, ironing, yardwork, farmwork, sewing, painting etc. Arrangements for a working student may be made by contacting Miss Adams, 655-3734.

Dogs Chase, Attack Cattle

A case of three German Shepherd dogs chasing 50 head of cattle and attacking and almost killing a 550 lb. heifer has been reported recently.

The incident, which occurred northeast of the intersection of Washington Street and Palo Duro Park Road, is a hazard to fenced animals, according to the owner of the cattle.

"I shot one of the dogs and trailed them home," said the owner. "The dog owner has agreed to dispose of the lead dog for the pack--and we hope this will solve the problem."

"It is an economic necessity that pet owners know of the whereabouts and activities of their animals--so that instances of this type do not occur," the cattle owner related, explaining that his animals were so panic-stricken by the incident that they continued to break out of the pasture for better than a week.

Marriage Vows Pledged For Stevens-Backlund

Miss Gloria Gail Stevens became the bride of Barry E. Backlund in rites Saturday at Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University with Rev. John Staat officiating at the double ring ceremonies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Stevens. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Backlund of Greeley, Colorado.

A standard of 15 candles decorated the front of the chapel and two single stands, holding seven candles each, flanked the arrangement. Accents of baskets of yellow mums flanked the bridal couple.

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen served as organist and John Brandon was vocalist. He sang "More", "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a pearled and scalloped chantilly lace with oval neckline accented with a yoked front revealing a demi-fit A-line rayon organdy gown. The lace cage effect swept to a watteau chapel train and her headpiece was a four-tiered elbow length nylon illusion attached to a coif of chantilly lace and rhinestones.

Her bridal bouquet was white roses carried atop a Bible. Something blue was a pair of matching garters made by her aunt, Mrs. G. V. Stevens of Marietta, Oklahoma; something old was two 1947 pennies and a 1969 penny; something borrowed was her mother's pearl necklace and something new was the bridal gown.

Linda Brown of Denver, Colorado was maid of honor and bridal attendants were Mrs. Janice Smith of Amarillo, Mrs. Ann Payne of Amarillo and Miss Collene Backlund of Greeley, Colorado. They all wore floor length dresses with elbow length sleeves in a royal blue color. Each carried a bouquet of yellow mums and their headpieces were roses made of matching materials.

Flower girl was Stacie Lyn Allison of Santa Fe, New Mexico. She wore an identical gown to the bridesmaids. Ringbearer was Darin Backlund of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Best man was Darwin Backlund of Colorado Springs, Colorado, a brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Rollin Backlund of Greeley, Colorado, Pat Stinson of Durant, Oklahoma and Kenneth Goodman of Amarillo.

Ushering were Jimmy Allison of Santa Fe, New Mexico and Gene Deeds of Farwell.

Candlelighters for the ceremony were Ricky Stevens of Dennison, Texas and Lee Deeds of Farwell.

The couple was honored with a reception at the Methodist Student Center on campus after which they departed on a wedding trip to Long Beach, California. For travel, the bride changed to a yellow wool dress with street length jacket to match and yellow accessories. Her corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will establish their home at 6363 Cherry Avenue in Long Beach, California.

A graduate of Canyon High School in 1965, the bride graduated from Trinidad State Junior College in 1967 and will continue her education at California State College in Long Beach, where she will major in criminology.

The bridegroom graduated in 1965 from Greeley High School in Colorado and graduated from Trinidad State Junior College in 1967. He is furthering his education at California State College in Long Beach where he is a senior student, member of Lambda Alpha Epsilon fraternity; a national law enforcement fraternity, and is also majoring in criminology.

Davis said Canyon will have to lease a crain and other heavy equipment for operations of the ground as a "sanitary landfill."

Under this plan, large trenches would be dug at the grounds, trash would be dumped in the trenches and then covered with soil.

Davis said at a rate of one acre per 10,000 persons per year, the 24 acres of new dump area will "last us about 13 years instead of 24," because of projected growth figures.

He said the commission is planning now, with the sanitary landfill, for the immediate future.

The commission, Davis said, has talked about an incinerator-type disposal system, but the cost (at least $75,000) is prohibitive.

Davis said the present system of disposal is "not a problem in the Panhandle because of the locale and the wind."
